

Patient Look-Up (PLU) Webinar!

The Patient Look-Up (PLU) service allows participating health care organizations and their affiliated users to query the medical records of other participating health care entities for individual patient data.

The PLU service is a “network of networks” that allows participating health care organizations and their affiliated users to query the medical records of other participating health care organizations for individual patient data. A patient’s consent is required before their records can be queried through the Florida Health Information Exchange (Florida HIE). Queries can be based on a patient’s name, date of birth, Social Security Number, and/or other patient demographics.

Join the webinar to learn how varied types of providers, from large health systems to small provider practices, can get
